

Customer Testimonial

I recruited Harry Rice for a specialized client we have in the nuclear industry. My client was seeking assistance with a very high-level managerial position within their organization. My first conversation with Harry assured me that I had found my client the exact fit for their needs. Over the course of the hiring process Harry and I shared many conversations about my client, the industry, relocation and the next step in his career. His recruitment was one of the smoothest and most innovative I have completed in the past 5 years.

Mr. Rice's ability to quickly identify regulatory drivers for Quality Control and Operational procedures on a complex project, and then clarify and create development platforms and organizational structures for compliance with the regulations have proven to be invaluable assets. He displays the highest degree of professional behavior, promoting an atmosphere of collegiality and cooperation.
